When the Battle Chooses You

Job

The book of Job addresses the problem of human suffering, especially the suffering that comes by no fault of one's own self. It tells the story of Job, a godly man who endured an enormous amount of suffering while remaining faithful to God. Satan attacked Job, and in a short period of time he lost his children, his possessions and even his health. Job's friends came to "comfort" him and reflect on the purpose and cause of Job's suffering. All of them failed to provide satisfactory answers. God himself rebuked them. God spoke directly to Job and reminded him that He alone is God. So, Job remained silent and stood in awe of God's sovereignty.

Job's testimony – 1:1-3, 6-8

Job's response – 2:10; 13:15; 19:23-27; 27:1-6
